THE SUBURBAN HOME SCHOOL,

Dixwell Avenue, Henry and Orchard Sts.

NEW HAVEN, CONN.

Rev. Alonzo G. Shears, M. A., M. D., Rector.

This School was established A. D., 1853, in the open country, only one mile from the State House. Since then very large outlays have been made for the enlargement and improvement of the Grounds and Buildings. It offers, at low rates, rare inducements to parents seeking a first-class Institution for their sons. All its pupils become members of the Rector's family, none boarding elsewhere. The location and extensive grounds insure the quiet peculiar to the country, so desirable to students and inviting to study, while health and happiness are promoted. The limited number of pupils tends greatly to their benefit, social as well as intellectual, including paternal or special care to young or backward boys. Pupils take frequent rides and rambles, under proper supervision. They also have the benefit of a thorough Military Drill. This establishment is warmed by Gold's very excellent Steam Heater, and furnishes warm and cold Baths. Semi-annual sessions begin Feb. 13th and August 14th. City Cars pass the School from the Steamboat Wharf and the Railroad Station.

M. MOULTHROP'S GALLERY OF PHOTOGRAPHIC ART

PHOENIX BUILDING,

No. 298 Chapel Street.

Having disposed of my interest in the rooms over John Kirby's Jewelry store, where I was located for three years, I shall hereafter be found personally at 298 Chapel Street, Phoenix Building.

This Establishment has recently been greatly improved, and has two fine Sky-Lights, and many other improvements that are not usually found except in the leading galleries of large cities; and I am now prepared to offer to the admirers of the fine arts the highest inducement for patronage.

From the earliest introduction of the Photographic Art to America, my exertions have been untiring to perfect it, in its application to every agreeable and useful purpose. I am now able to give my pictures a surpassing and unusual delicacy in their finish.

There is but little sameness in my positions and use of light, it being the design to show every face in its best light, forcible expression, and startling animation, representing thought, action and feeling of soul.

Among the numero is kinds of pictures to be found at the rooms, are PORTRAITS IN OIL COLORS, from miniature to life-size. Also, a new style of IVORYTYPE in oil colors that defies competition. Various styles of Water Colors, India Ink, Crayons, Ambrotypes, Melaineotypes,—in short, every variety called for. Our PORCELAIN Pictures are acknowledged to be the very best made.

YALE COLLEGE.

The noblest monument to the wisdom of the fathers is found in the provision made among us for education. Yale College ranks third in age, and first in the number of undergraduate members, among the multitude of colleges which public policy or private munificence has spread over the country.

The college grounds occupy one-eighteenth part of the original town plot of New Haven, including, quite accidentally, the birth place of Elihu Yale, from whom the College has its name. He was, however, in no sense the founder of the College; that honor belongs to the Congregational clergy of the State, who subsequently recognized the liberality of Gov. Yale by bestowing upon their institution his name. The first college building was of wood, and stood near the corner of Chapel and College streets. The present buildings are fourteen in number, and were erected as follows: South College was begun in 1793; the old Chapel, now the Athenæum, next north, in 1761; South Middle in 1750; the Lyceum and North Middle in 1803; the Chapel in 1824; the North College in 1822, and Divinity College in 1835. This completes the list of buildings on College street. Those in the rear of the Colleges proper were erected as follows: The old Dining Hall, now the Laboratory, was built in 1782; the new Dining Hall, now used as Lecture Room below, and for a Mineralogical and Geological Cabinet above, in 1819; the Library in 1842; the Trumbull Gallery in 1831; Alumni Hall in 1852, and the Fine Arts Building in 1865-66.

The objects in and about the College, which usually attract the attention of strangers, are the following:

TRUMBULL GALLERY.—Col. John Trumbull, a son of the good and wise Governor of Connecticut, was early in life on the staff of General Washington. His military hopes, however, he soon abandoned, to cultivate his taste in art. Soon after the close of the war, he devoted himself to the work of perpetuating, on canvass, the great historical events of the revolutionary struggle. The original paintings from which were prepared those that ornament the rotunda of the National Capitol, were deposited here by Col. Trumbull in 1832, together with a considerable number of other paintings by himself. It is greatly to be regretted, however, that the Gallery has no copy of his finest piece, "The Sortie of Gibraltar." A number of paintings by other artists, fill the south room of the Gallery; the north one being devoted exclusively to those by Col. Trumbull. The piece of sculpture, "Jeptha and his Daughter," by Augur, a self-instructed artist; a pen and ink sketch of himself, made by Major Andre, the night previous to his execution; and the sword and sash worn by General Wooster at the time he was killed at Ridgefield, will attract the attention of visitors.

GRADUATES' HALL.—The lower story of this building is used for the examinations of the undergraduates and of candidates for admission to College. The College dinners are also given here. The very elegant rooms above are occupied by the two literary societies, the Linonian and the Brothers in Unity. The portraits on the wall of the Examination Hall, are those of gentlemen connected with the history of the College, either as benefactors or instructors.

The collection of books in the Library building is over 75,000 volumes. Of late years much attention has been paid by the College authorities to the increase of the library, but the limited funds at their disposal, will for many years forbid anything like completeness in almost all its departments. The collection of books in the two wings of the library building, belong to the literary societies of the College.

THE MINERALOGICAL AND GEOLOGICAL CABINET of the College is regarded as one of the finest collections now in existence. At the beginning of this century, all the minerals belonging to the College were taken by the late Prof. Silliman in a small candle box to Philadelphia, to be designated and classified. A few years later the collection was increased by such additions as were gathered personally by Prof. Silliman, in England and Scotland. In 1807 the College purchased, for a thousand dollars, a cabinet of about two thousand specimens, which had been procured in London by Mr. Benjamin D. Perkins. In 1800, a portion of the valuable collection made in Europe by Col. Gibbs, was deposited here for exhibition, and two years later the remainder of his cabinet was added to it. In 1825 the College became the owners of these minerals, at the cost of $25,000, a sum greatly below their intrinsic worth. The minerals procured from Col. Gibbs, were chiefly made up from three private collections,—that purchased in Switzerland, from Count Razamovsky, a Russian gentleman who had devoted many years at Lausanne, to mineralogical pursuits,—that made in France, by M. Gigot d' Orey, one of the farmers-general under Louis XVI, who spent forty years in its formation, and was finally guillotined,—and that of the Count de Bournon, which consisted mostly of English Minerals, and of gems from the East Indies, the latter of which were derived chiefly from the duplicates of the celebrated Grenville collection, afterwards bought by the British Museum. Very considerable additions have since been made to the Cabinet, and the collection is now every way creditable to the College.

The building occupied by the Sheffield Scientific School, or Scientific Department of Yale College, stands at the head of College street, two blocks north of the other College buildings. This department is devoted to practical and scientific education, classical studies being omitted from the course. Instruction is here given with the aid of well-furnished laboratories and ample collections in Chemistry, Mineralogy, Geology, Engineering, and other branches of practical science. A more general course—embracing Mathematical and Natural Science, Literature, Modern Languages, History, and Commercial Law—has recently been established, and meets the demand of the public for a more exclusively practical course of collegiate education. The fine building occupied by the department is a gift of JOSEPH E. SHEFFIELD, Esq., to Yale College. Three Professorships have been endowed, and the institution liberally supplied with the apparatus of instruction by the same gentleman. The interior of the building is elegantly finished and painted in fresco.

The rooms of the Engineering section will be found in the main building. The west wing is occupied by the Chemical and Metallurgical laboratories, and the east wing as a Museum of Practical Science. The Museum contains full suites of ores of the most important metals, specimens of the rocks in which they are found, models of furnaces, and samples of fluxes and furnace products,—the whole designed to illustrate the production of metals from their ores.

THE MEDICAL COLLEGE is located in York street, on the west side, between Chapel and Crown streets.

THE COLLEGE GYMNASIUM is the large brick building in the rear of the Colleges, and on the west side of High street. The arrangements for bowling, and other kinds of exercise, are thought to be very superior.

Strangers can obtain admittance to the various public buildings of the College, except the Library, at all hours of the day, by applying at the Treasurer's office, in the Trumbull Gallery. The library is open daily from 10 o'clock in the morning to 1 o'clock noon.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.—The public Commencement is held on the last Thursday of July in each year. The regular examination for admission to College, takes place on Monday and Tuesday preceding Commencement, beginning at 9 o'clock A. M., on Monday, and at 8 o'clock A. M., on Tuesday. Candidates for admission assemble at Graduates' Hall. Those who present themselves for examination at a subsequent period, meet on the Tuesday and Wednesday preceding the first College term, which begins seven weeks from Commencement day.

YALE SCHOOL OF THE FINE ARTS.

This institution was founded in 1864, through the munificence of our fellow citizen, AUGUSTUS R. STREET, Esq., who in that year proposed to the Corporation of Yale College to erect, at his sole expense, as a gift to the College, an appropriate building for a school of the fine arts. The building was begun in the autumn of 1864, and is now approaching completion,—a great ornament to our city, and in every respect commodiously arranged for its purpose. It provides for the collection and exhibition of works of art, such as paintings, sculptures, engravings, and the like; for instruction in the principles and theory of art; and for the domestication, in studios under its roof, of distinguished artists who may be invited to establish themselves there, for the sake of their inspiring influence.

The organization and conducting of the school was committed by the Corporation of Yale College, at its meeting in the summer of 1865, on Mr. Street's suggestion, to the President of the College, ex officio; with Mr. Daniel Huntington, of New York, President of the National Academy of Design; Professors E. E. Salisbury and Prof. N. Porter, of New Haven, and Mr. Donald G. Mitchell, the well-known "Farmer of Edgewood," as an Art Council, of which one member is to retire each year, by lot, his place to be supplied by some other person chosen by the Corporation, unless he is, as he may be, re-elected. Of the plans of this Council, it is not yet time to speak publicly. They are attending to the duty assigned to them, and are encouraged to hope that, within a year, the School may be inaugurated under favorable auspices. What they are able to accomplish, however, in carrying out the noble design of the founder, will depend very much upon the disposition which may be shown by men of wealth and culture to give their aid.

It is hoped that our own citizens will be forward to assist in endowing the institution with all needful permanent funds, for chairs of instruction, the purchase of works of art, and the necessary apparatus for art-instruction; so that it may yield to themselves and others, in full measure, the benefits which such an establishment is fitted to confer, in the refinement of public taste, the cultivation of a love of true beauty, and that intellectual and moral elevation which naturally associates itself with the study of the fine arts, when properly directed. The founder wished that the institution should be identified with the City where all his home and family attachments are centered; and the interests of citizens of New Haven will, accordingly, be carefully considered in all its arrangements.

Watering Places and Summer Resorts.

SAVIN ROCK,

Four miles below the city, on the West side, is a bluff of rocks which takes its name from the savin, or evergreen shrub, which formerly abounded here. Immediately adjacent to the rock is the finest beach for bathing to be found on the Connecticut shore. From time immemorial this has been a place of popular resort for parties from the country. A small boarding house was erected here some years since, which passed through the hands of successive occupants, into the possession of the late proprietor, Mr. E. A. Upson.* With a natural-genius for the business, Mr. Upson saw the capabilities of the Rock, and that it might be made one of the most attractive places of summer resort in the country. By a liberal expenditure of money, and by the exercise of great good taste, he succeeded in uniting at Savin Rock, the conveniences and luxuries which are looked for in a first class hotel, with the special attractions of a watering place. The house has accommodations for about two hundred boarders. A considerable number of its guests are made up of families who spend the summer at the Rock. The table arrangements are admirable. All who visit the house unite in pronouncing this department unexcelled in the country. A shooting gallery, billiard tables, bowling alleys, shuffle board, rowing, sailing, fishing, bathing, double and single carriages, saddle horses, &c., present an agreeable variety of resources both for the regular guests and for occasional visitors. A dock for the convenient landing of sailing parties has recently been built within a hundred feet of the house.

The house has recently passed into the hands of Harvey Reamer, Esq., of Derby. His charges are three dollars and a half per day for transient boarders, and according to the rooms they occupy, for regular guests. The facilities for reaching Savin Rock are unusually good. The New York and New Haven Railroad passes within no great distance from the house, the cars stopping four times a day at the West Haven Depot. An Omnibus leaves New Haven at 10 A. M. and 2 P. M., and Savin Rock at 11 A. M. and 5½ P. M. A telegraph office connects the house with all parts of the country. The grounds pertaining to the house embrace about twenty acres, including one of the finest kitchen gardens in the State. The grove continues to be a favorite resort for select picnic parties, a trifling charge being usually made for the use of the grounds and tables. The pleasant village of West Haven is about a mile distant, having a Congregational and an Episcopal Church, in both of which, visitors to the Rock are received with attention.

Summer Resorts on the East Side of the Harbor.

GROVE HOUSE.

The Grove House is in the immediate vicinity of the Light House, and indeed, was built in consequence of the prohibition by the Government of the keepers of Light Houses becoming also keepers of houses of public entertainment. The situation is a delightful one, at the entrance of the harbor. The house is surrounded by a beautiful grove, the fishing is abundant. There is a ten-pin alley for the recreation of the guests, about thirty of whom can be accommodated by the proprietor, Mr. George Nettleton. His charges are moderate for board. The house usually opens on the first of June. Tables are erected in the woods for the convenience of picnic parties, who visit the place in large numbers, and who are expected to pay nothing for the use of the tables and grounds. Mr. Nettleton has ample accommodations for horses.

Leaving the city either by the way of Fair Haven, or Tomlinson's Bridge, a charming drive of five or six miles can be found by skirting the harbor on the road which leads to the Light House. The view from the different hills you pass, commands the entire basin in which the town of New Haven lies, as well as a fine water prospect of the Harbor and Sound. About a mile from the city the highest eminence on the left is Fort Wooster, which was built in 1814 by the spontaneous efforts of citizens of New Haven, aided by large companies of men from the neighboring towns, to repel an anticipated attack from the British fleet which held possession of the Sound. The fort was never garrisoned, and indeed, was only designed for use as earthworks in some temporary emergency. The view from Fort Wooster will amply repay the slight labor of the ascent. A hundred or two yards north of the entrance to the fort, lies the ancient Indian burying ground. Nothing remains to indicate the place, except the slight depressions in the turf which mark the graves of the once powerful Quinnipiacks. Bodies have occasionally been dug up by the curious. They are found buried in a reclining position, facing the rising sun, at the depth of only three or four feet from the surface. Wampum, beads and hatchets, are found to have sometimes been buried with the dead. A mile or more below Fort Wooster, on the water, lies Fort Hale, belonging to the United States. During the war of 1812 it was garrisoned by a few men, but it ceased to be regarded as having any value for military purposes many years before the emergencies of the present civil war called the attention of the government to the necessity of providing adequate protection for the most important seaport of Connecticut. The old Fort has been demolished, and strong earthworks are now (1866) in process of completion.

Two or three graceful villa residences on this road will attract the attention of the stranger. The first belongs to the family of the late William K. Townsend, Esq., and is beautifully situated on the left of the road, about two and a half miles from the city. The other two are at Morris' Cove, below Fort Hale. The first belongs to J. Albert Lum, Esq., and the next is the summer residence of C. Maverick Parker, Esq., of New York. The Morris House, at the Cove, is in the habit of receiving a few visitors in the summer months. Accommodations for a limited number can usually be found in several of the other private houses in the vicinity.

THE LIGHT HOUSE.

This spot was selected by Government early in the present century, for the erection of a Light House, greatly needed here, as a guide to mariners. The first building erected in 1804, was a small affair, and gave place, in 1846, to the present edifice, seventy-three feet in height. It is furnished with a stationary light, and the place is also supplied with a fog bell.

The Light House keeper, Mr. Elizur Thompson, is prohibited from keeping a house of public entertainment, but he is obliging enough to part with two or three rooms to visitors, who can provide themselves in other ways with board. It is a retired and pleasant place for two or three small families who need quiet and the benefit of sea air.

SOUTH END.

This neck was originally sold for five barrels of pork. It is now the quiet resort for picnic parties from city and country. South End can be reached either by passing through East Haven, or by leaving the road to the Light House, where it turns off directly to the water, apparently through a farm yard, and keeping on to the left.

Mr. John P. Thompson, the owner of the grove, can receive into his house twenty or twenty-five persons, who do not expect Fifth Avenue accommodations. The fishing here is superior, rock black fish being in great abundance, and the bathing places on the long, fine beach, excellent and safe. It may be well for picnic parties who resort to South End, to know that the use of the grounds, tables, well of water, &c., can hardly compensate the proprietor for his expense and trouble in making it an agreeable resort for pleasure seekers. His charge is $1 for a table, which will accommodate from twenty to twenty-five persons.

The New London Railroad, or a carriage road through the center of East Haven, will carry pleasure seekers to several popular sea-side houses of entertainment.

DOUBLE BEACH.

The house at this headland has long been kept by Mr. Malachi Linsley, and is a pleasant resort for citizens of New Haven. Its distance is only an easy hour's drive,—seven miles from the city,—or it can be reached by rail, the traveler stopping at Branford Depot, from which a carriage will convey him a distance of two miles, to the Beach. From seventy to seventy-five persons can find accommodations at the house. A bowling alley, trotting course, boating, billiards, fishing and bathing, are among the means of recreation provided for its guests.

BRANFORD POINT.

Is an agreeable and well kept house. The proprietor, Mr. D. M. King, has room for one hundred and forty guests. All the conveniences for passing the time pleasantly usually found at such places, are furnished at the Point, and the house may safely be recommended to strangers. For several seasons past the proprietor has run an omnibus daily to and from the city.

INDIAN NECK.

Two large boarding houses on the Sound are also reached from the Branford depot. Indian Neck, two miles from the depot, has accommodations for forty persons. The proprietor is Mr. Lynde Frisbie.

PINE ORCHARD.

Four miles from the depot, is a pleasant boarding house, where Mr. Truman Sheldon receives from forty to fifty guests.

STONY CREEK.

This quiet resort, twelve miles from New Haven, is only a quarter of a mile from the Stony Creek depot, on the New London Railroad. The fishing here is admirable, and the gigantic oysters and clams taken in the vicinity, have made the name of the place famous among those who are careful about the quality of their shell fish. A pleasant bowling alley and billiard room, a comfortable yacht, &c., are provided for the fifty guests, to whom, during the season, the proprietor, Mr. Douglass, devotes his attention.

SACHEM'S HEAD.

This celebrated watering place is situated on the north shore of Long Island Sound, within the boundaries of the pleasant town of Guilford, 15 miles from New Haven.* The large hotel is situated on an eminence of rare beauty, giving a view over much varied and interesting scenery. Landscape and water combine to render the prospect the most charming imaginable. The immense edifice which now occupies the site of what was once only a mere ordinary dwelling, is over six hundred feet in length, with three "center" buildings, three stories in height, and 75 feet in length each. It is calculated to accommodate more visitors than any other seashore house in Connecticut.

A line of telegraph is in operation from the Head, connecting with all the lines of the Union.

The place is within a half hour's ride of New Haven, by railroad, and the trains run regularly four times each way daily over the Shore Line Railroad.

GUILFORD POINT,

Fifteen miles from New Haven, is a headland on the Sound, two miles east from Sachem's Head. The Guilford depot of the New Haven and New London Railroad, is little more than half a mile distant, where eight trains stop daily—four from New Haven, and four from New London. "The Pavilion," Mr. Robert Hunt, proprietor, is a very quiet, and highly respectable hotel, largely patronized by many families from New York, Hartford, &c., who are in the habit, year after year, of making the Point their summer home. The house is very pleasantly situated on a beautiful lawn, fronting the Sound. It has accommodations for about one hundred guests. The usual conveniences are found here for fishing, bathing, rowing, sailing, bowling, &c. The shell fish taken at the Point are said to be the finest on the Atlantic coast. The proprietor is at all times during the season, prepared to entertain parties from New Haven, or elsewhere, with dinner or supper.

* This fine Hotel was destroyed by fire June 14, 1865.

DRIVES, &c.

WEST HAVEN.

The vicinity of New Haven abounds in fine drives. Beginning on the west side of the harbor, West Haven is a beautiful village, about three miles from the city, very much like an English village in appearance, with its rural green and venerable trees. It is a place of some historic interest, in connection with the landing here of the British troops, under command of Gens. Tryon and Garth, during the revolutionary war. Early on the morning of July 5th, 1779, two English men-of-war, with forty-eight tenders, transports, &c., entered the harbor. At sunrise, about one-half of their land force, (1,500 men,) under the command of Gen. Garth, landed at Savin Rock beach, the officers making their temporary headquarters at the old Kimberly house, (still standing,) about half way between West Haven village and the place of landing. The troops were mustered on West Haven Green, and commenced their march for New Haven. Soon after the advance, skirmishing occurred between the enemy and our own people. Adjutant Campbell was killed while ascending Milford Hill. The tradition among the old people of the vicinity is, that he was shot by a lad by the name of Johnson, who, taking an old fashioned musket, and creeping among the whortleberry bushes growing on the side of the hill, lay down to observe what was going on. An officer on horseback soon after appeared ascending the hill, in advance of a small squad of men, when the lad shot at him, and saw him fall from his horse. Campbell was carried into the house of the mother of the boy, where he soon after died of his wound. He is buried in a field, still called "Campbell's Lot," about 300 feet north of the road leading to Milford. A low stone, with the name "CAMPBELL, 1779," in the south-west corner of the field, marks his grave.

West Haven is reached by two roads; one the old road through Allingtown, and the other from the Oyster Point road, across the new bridge recently built (1861) at the mouth of West River. A very pleasant drive is found by crossing the new bridge, passing the West Haven Green, and down to Savin Rock. The return drive to the city by West Bridge, will carry the stranger past the Catholic Cemetery, the State Hospital, St. John's Church, &c.

WESTVILLE.

A longer and more retired drive may be found by passing on the West side of the river, through Allingtown to the Derby road, and so into the city; or, it may be protracted by continuing on the road to Westville, over the high ground which commands a fine view of New Haven, passing the residence of Donald G. Mitchell, Esq., late U. S. Consul at Venice, author of "Reveries of a Bachelor," &c. The village of Westville is picturesquely situated at the foot of West Rock, and is a thriving manufacturing community. As you rise the hill from Westville, passing into the city, the eminence on the left indicates the place where entrenchments, traces of which are still visible, were thrown up by the Americans, to resist the advance of Gen. Garth. A spirited contest here ensued, in which numbers were wounded, and a few killed on each side. On the right is

HAMILTON PARK,

Which was opened to the public by a few public-spirited proprietors, in the year 1859. Previous to this time, New Haven possessed no appropriate place for agricultural fairs, or for other objects needing accommodations for a large concourse of people. The grounds have been handsomely arranged, a fine course for trotting laid out, and convenient buildings for visitors erected. The ground within the course has been excavated for a skating pond in winter, which is filled by a steam pump, from the water of the river which bounds the ground on the west. Arrangements have recently been made, by which the attractions of the place have been largely increased. The ground inclosed for the Park is about forty acres.

WEST ROCK,

Furnishes the most extensive view to be obtained of New Haven and its vicinity. The City Horse Cars run during the day to Westville bridge, from which point visitors will find it a half hour's walk to the summit of the Rock. About half a mile north, is the celebrated

JUDGE'S CAVE.

It consists of huge boulders, apparently thrown together by some convulsion of nature. There were formerly three of the larger stones, each rising to a height of fifteen or twenty feet, with openings a few feet wide between their bases. Some years since the centre was struck by lightning, which did considerable damage, and greatly altered the appearance of the Rock. More than two hundred years ago, these narrow fissures were the only home of two men, whose names were once memorable in England,—General Edward Whalley, and General William Goffe, both of whose signatures are affixed to the warrant for the execution of King Charles I. These gentlemen had fled at the Restoration, and made their appearance at New Haven in the Spring of 1661. To protect their friends here from the suspicion of harboring rebels, they betook themselves to this wild retreat, where they were supplied with food by Richard Sperry, the nearest inhabitant to the rock. Tradition says, that they were frightened from the place by the appearance in the night of a panther or catamount.

A pleasant half hour's ramble in a northeasterly direction, leads to a romantic spot, called

WINTERGREEN FALLS.

It is one of the most agreeable places for the visit of pleasure parties, that can be found in the vicinity of New Haven. Those who prefer a carriage to the horse cars can approach nearer the Judge's Cave, by following the road at the foot of the Rock, north to the first dwelling on the right hand side, opposite which is the direct ascent to the Cave. The shortest way both to Judge's Cave, or Wintergreen Falls, is through Goffe and Crescent streets. To visit the latter place, those not familiar with its situation, will find it necessary to make inquiries at some of the dwellings near the foot of the Rock.

THE VILLAGE OF WHITNEYVILLE,

Is a pleasant place for strangers to visit. Its distance is little more than two miles from the city, and can be reached by two or three different roads,—either by the Hamden road, through Broadway, or by Prospect street, through the woods and past the reservoir, or directly by the Hartford turnpike. The pleasantest of these drives, especially in a warm day, is that through the woods, both from its shadiness, and from the fine views both of East and West Rock, to be seen at intervals on the road. The village itself was built up by Eli Whitney, Esq., the distinguished inventor of the cotton gin. In the year 1798, Mr. Whitney, having obtained a contract from the United States for the manufacture of ten thousand stand of arms, purchased the site of this place, and erected his factory, together with a number of tenements for workmen. Mr. Whitney died in 1825. The factory, greatly enlarged, is now owned by his son, who continues the manufacture of fire-arms.

Mill river, on which the factory is situated, furnishes New Haven with its water. A new and very substantial dam was built in 1861. The dwellings on the sides of the stream above were removed, and the interval between the high lands on each side the river, flooded. The reservoir for the supply of the city is situated on the elevated land between Prospect street and the Hartford Turnpike, about a mile from the dam. The pump by which the water is forced into the reservoir, is driven by the surplus water of Mill river.

NEW HAVEN WATER WORKS.

The introduction of an abundant supply of pure and wholesome water is a feature in the history of a city which has been found to contribute, more than any other, to its growth and prosperity; and the successful accomplishment of such an undertaking for the City of New Haven, in the face of many obstacles, may render a brief account of the works interesting.

The source from which the supply is obtained is Mill River, yielding, the year round, a daily supply of 120,000,000 gallons; one-tenth of this quantity is the basis upon which the works are constructed, this being the extreme minimum flow of the stream.

At a point on the river which seems formed by nature for this very purpose, a dam, thirty feet high, twenty feet wide at the top and one hundred feet at the base, is built; the whole length of which is five hundred feet, with an overfall of one hundred and fifty feet—the east wing not being so high as the main dam, affords an additional length of overfall in case of extraordinary rises in the river.

The dam backs up the water for about two and a-half miles, and forms one of the finest lakes in the country, with drives along its shores, which are exceedingly attractive. The average depth of water is about twenty feet, and the quantity ordinarily in the lake 500,000,000 gallons.

The water is conveyed through the dam by a 48-inch iron pipe into the pump-house, which is a very substantial brick structure, sixty feet long, forty feet wide, and twenty-five feet high. This building contains the pumping machinery, which consists of two back-pitch, overshot water wheels, each thirty feet in diameter, with eighty wrought-iron buckets, six feet in length, and two double-acting force-pumps, sixteen inches in diameter, and five feet stroke, capable of delivering three thousand gallons per minute; these are so arranged as to be used separately or together, as occasion may require. The whole of this machinery was constructed by the "Farrell Foundry and Machine Co.," of Ansonia, and is of the most substantial character. From here the water is forced through an iron pipe, sixteen inches in diameter, into a reservoir on "Sachem's Hill," at an elevation of one hundred and twenty-five feet above mean high water. The reservoir is in the form of an ellipse, and has a capacity of 10,000,000 of gallons; it is built in two divisions, so that the water can be drawn off from one, for the purpose of cleaning, without diminishing the supply to the city. The dimensions of the reservoir at the water line are four hundred and eighty-eight feet by two hundred and forty-eight feet, with a depth of fifteen feet.

From the reservoir the water is carried into the city by a 16-inch main, and distributed through over twenty miles of pipes, of various sizes—12, 8, 6 and 4 inches in diameter—about one-half of which is six inches. Arrangements are made, in the works already constructed, by which their capacity can be increased to two force mains and three distributing mains, as the demand for an additional supply may require.

In short, the New Haven Water Co. have successfully accomplished their object, viz: the introduction into the city of an abundant supply of good water, at an elevation entirely sufficient for all practical purposes, public or private; and the very moderate cost of the works, compared with others of the same magnitude, has enabled them to conclude a contract with the authorities, upon terms very advantageous to the city, for the supply of water to public buildings of all kinds, and to some two hundred and sixty hydrants, for fire purposes, thereby placing the City of New Haven, as regards protection from fire, in a position not surpassed by any other city in the Union. Thus has the project inaugurated, and for many years so honestly and earnestly contended for, by the late Hon. AARON N. SKINNER, been consummated, vindicating the correctness of his judgment and the active benevolence of his capacious heart. It is a source of regret to all the friends of this project that he could not have lived to behold its glorious triumph.

EAST ROCK.

This beautiful eminence is reached by a short ride over Neck Bridge, and by an ascent not difficult for carriages. The city, the harbor, the shipping, Long Island Sound, and in the distance Long Island itself, unite to form a singularly beautiful panorama. A house of entertainment can be found on the brow of the rock, with a bowling alley for those who like the amusement. Parties on foot will find the return to the city over the rock, by the way of Whitneyville, to be a pleasant walk. Parties on horseback, or even in carriages, (though the road is not to be commended for vehicles,) will find a beautiful view of the bold face of the Rock, by turning to the left after reaching its foot, and following up the stream either to Potter's Bridge, or to Whitneyville. A pleasant ride entirely around the rock, is had by the Whitneyville road, to the covered bridge above the dam and by taking the first road to the right after crossing the stream and then into the city. Those who are fond of a drive by the water, will find a pleasant one over Neck Bridge to Lewis' Bridge, thence down the Quinnipiack to Fair Haven, and across the railroad to the old ferry point. Those who wish to visit Fair Haven, can do so by the Horse Railroad. The cars run every ten minutes.

CEMETERIES.

ANCIENT BURIAL PLACES.

For more than a century and a half, the successive generations of our forefathers were laid to rest around and in the rear of the humble sanctuary erected on the rural green, which the first settlers of New Haven had set apart for the uses of religion and of public justice. In October, 1797, an act of incorporation was granted, by which the plat of ground on Grove street was made a public burial ground. The ground was divided into family lots, to which titles in fee were given, at a price that inadequately remunerated Mr. Hillhouse, the public spirited projector of the enterprise. Burials immediately began to be made in the new cemetery, though from family feeling, and old associations, interments were still frequent in the old "grave yard."

In 1821, the town ordered the removal of all the stones and monuments from the Green to the new burying place, and the ground to be leveled. From that time onward, with three or four exceptions, it has been a matter of increasingly vague tradition, where the forefathers lie buried. The exceptions are the graves of Theophilus Eaton, of the regicides Col. Dixwell, and the supposed graves of General Whalley and Goffe. President Stiles, of Yale College, who wrote the lives of the regicide judges who escaped to America, indicates by a plate in the volume the relative position of these graves. They lie within a few feet of each other. To the least considerable of them a handsome monument has, within a few years, been erected by a descendant in the female line; while the top of a small stone, level with the walk on the north-west side, and two stones a few feet east of the inclosure to Dixwell's monument, alone indicate where the abler and more noted regicides are conjectured to lie buried.—When the grave of Dixwell was opened, in 1849, the skull and most of the large bones were found entire; fragments only remained of the coffin, which seemed to have been made of cedar, covered with black cloth, and ornamented with brass-headed nails. It is a suggestive fact, in connection with honors paid to the long-buried dead, that no provision had been made for the reception of such remains of the regicides as might be found unconsumed by time, and that the deficiency was supplied by the hasty procurement of a coarse packing box, in which they were deposited. The monument above it, however, is an expensive and handsome one.

It is not creditable to the good taste of those who projected the removal of the venerable stones from the upper Green, that they willingly left the burial place of Gov. Eaton without some memorial to indicate its position. Fortunately, its situation is definitely known from President Stiles. The foot of his grave is in a line thirteen feet westerly from the foot stone of the grave supposed to be Whalley's, on a line parallel with the north fence of the Green; while the head of the grave is sixteen feet due east from the reputed grave of Goffe. A little more than two centuries ago, "a comely tomb such as the colony was capable of," was placed, by order of the General Court, over the remains of the wise and revered Governor. The same stone now stands in the new Cemetery, in good preservation, and should be restored to the place where it originally stood, to remain, till in some future time it shall be superseded by a monument worthy of his memory, and not unworthy of the people whose forefathers he led into the wilderness.

The only other ancient place within the city limits that has ever been used as a public burial place for the dead, is the site of the original Trinity Church, on the east side of Church street, just below its junction with Chapel street. The interments here seem not to have been numerous, and ceased, except in very peculiar cases, by vote of a parish meeting, in the year 1785.

GROVE STREET CEMETERY.

The new burial ground on Grove street, contains about 18 acres. It is said to be the first cemetery in the United States that was laid out into family lots. Some who have deserved well of their country and of the world, lie buried in this inclosure. Many more who have been useful in the discharge of local public trusts, also rest here from their labors. Not an inconsiderable degree of taste has been exhibited in a number of its monuments. The place makes no pretensions to the elegance or the expenditure common to the cemeteries of large metropolitan cities; it is only a handsomely kept, well shaded burial ground, where the eye is not offended with an appearance of things not in harmony with the tenderness and reverence due to the dead.

EVERGREEN CEMETERY.

The lots in the Grove Street Cemetery having become high in price, and difficult to be obtained, a meeting of citizens was held Sept. 15, 1848, to take into consideration the subject of a new Cemetery. An Association was formed by persons present at that meeting, who resolved that its stock should be divided into three hundred shares at ten dollars each. Directors of the Association were elected Oct. 17th, who purchased from Nathan Peck, Esq., Nov. 20, 1848, a tract of land, fronting on West street about 760 feet and extending westerly about 1000 feet to the border of the West River marshes and embracing an area of about 13½ acres. In 1856 a further purchase was made from the same proprietor of 24 additional acres. The grounds are admirably fitted for burial purposes and capable of being made exceedingly beautiful, both from their position on the banks of West River and from their diversified surface. The first burial in the Cemetery was made in the year 1848.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CEMETERIES.

The Cemetery in Davenport Avenue for the burial of Roman Catholics was opened in the year 1834. After a few years, the grounds were found wholly inadequate to the largely increased number of Catholics in the city, and a purchase of a large and level tract of land on Columbus street near the West river, was made in 1850, and consecrated by the Bishop of the Diocese. Many handsome monuments have already been erected, and the general appearance of the Cemetery is very creditable to those who have it in charge. An elegant monument has recently been erected in the south part of the grounds to the memory of the first Bishops of the Hartford Diocese, Bishop Wm. Tyler, who died in 1849, and Bishop B. O'Rielly, who was lost at sea in the year 1856.

HEBREW CEMETERY.

A purchase was made by the Jewish residents of the City several years since, of a piece of ground on the north side of Whalley Avenue, opposite Hamilton Park, containing about 1½ acres, which has since been used exclusively by them as a place of burial. Adjoining it on the east, and within the city limits, is the burial place of the inhabitants of Westville. Previous to this, the dead of this village were buried with the other inhabitants of the town.

FAIR HAVEN CEMETERY.

The residents of this village laid out, many years since, a cemetery in the rear of the present Congregational church, which is divided into family lots and embellished with many tasteful monuments.

CITY HALL.

The first buildings erected for public civil uses stood on the Green near College street, and about opposite the North Middle College. The general meetings of the Colony Jurisdiction, in accordance with a custom not unknown to the early settlers, in the parish churches of their fatherland, were probably held in the "meeting house." The old State House built in the year 1763, just north of Trinity Church, was next used for public purposes. In 1830, the present State House was erected, partly at the expense of the city and town, and furnished partial accommodations for the civil necessities of the community. In the summer of 1862, a new City Hall was erected, or as some prefer to call it, a Hall of Records, (probably from the fact that among all the definitions of the word "Hall," there is none which can properly be used in connection with a place for the deposit of records.)

The history of this elegant edifice and of the lot on which it stood, is deserving of permanent record. The facts respecting the structure itself are derived from Mayor Welch's address to the Common Council; the history of the lot on which it stands were communicated by Henry White, Esq.

"The lot on which the new Hall is built, is a part of a larger lot of about three acres, which in the original division of the town plot, made in 1639, was allotted to Mr. Owen Rowe. It extended, on Church street, from the north line of the lot now owned by the Town and City, so far south as to include most of the Tontine block, and, in depth, about forty feet east of Orange street.

Mr. Rowe was a citizen and tradesman of London, and was one of the largest subscribers to the undertaking for the settlement of New Haven; but he never became an inhabitant. He took an active part in the civil war in England, was a Colonel in the army of the Parliament, and one of the Judges who condemned Charles I. to death. At the restoration of Charles II., he was thrown into prison, and died soon after, in the Tower of London.

As the rear of this lot adjoined the rear of Mr. Davenport's home lot, which had its front on Elm street, the Town ordered a passage way of eight feet in width, to be fenced off from the north side of Mr. Rowe's lot, so that the pastor might walk from his own garden directly to the meeting house, which stood then where the liberty pole now stands. This path was over the vacant land between the north wall of the Hall and the home lot of Dr. Knight.

In consequence of the failure of Mr. Rowe to join the colony as a settler, his lot, in 1643, was divided by the town among the adjoining owners, and the north part, on which the new Hall is built, was granted to Mr. Davenport, the pastor.

Mr. Davenport died in 1670, and this lot descended to his only child, John Davenport, Jr., who died in 1676, and from him it came to his children, one of whom was Abigail Pierpont, wife of the Rev. James Pierpont, an early successor of Mr. Davenport in the ministry. Rev. Mr. Pierpont, in 1693, purchased the remaining shares, from the other children of Mr. Davenport, and soon after, exchanged this lot with the Town and the Trustees of the Grammar School, for a lot on the north side of the Green, adjoining his own residence. This lot was given by the Town to the Hopkins Grammar School, in fulfillment of the condition on which the Executors of Governor Hopkins' will had founded, in New Haven, the School for which he had made provision in his will, and which afterwards bore his name. The Hopkins Committee, for many years, derived an income from the lot, by leasing it for short terms, and, frequently, to the adjoining owners. The last of these leases on record, expired in 1771. The increasing difficulty of obtaining an adequate income from short leases, was one of the reasons which induced the Committee, in 1801, to make to the County of New Haven a long lease, for 999 years, of that part of the lot on which the Hall now stands. This conveyance was for a gross sum, in lieu of all future annual rents. The County, soon after, erected their County House and Jail on the lot, and continued to own and occupy it in this way, until the year 1856, when it was purchased of them by the Town, for its present uses, at an expense of twenty-five thousand dollars."

The urgent necessity for a public building which should accommodate the various public offices, gradually united the community in the opinion that a building not unworthy of the City should be erected at the joint expense of city and town. At a City meeting held on the 23d of June, 1860, Philip S. Galpin, Frederick Croswell, David Cook, O. F. Winchester, Isaac Thomson, and Sylvanus Butler, were appointed a Committee to co-operate and unite with a similar Committee on the part of the City to procure plans and contract for the erection of a suitable fire-proof building for the safe keeping of the Public Records of the Town, City, and Probate District of New Haven, and for the public use of said Town, City, and Probate District, upon the lot of land known as the "County House Lot." The sum of forty thousand dollars was also voted at this meeting as the proportionate share of the Town towards the expense of the building. The Town had previously purchased the lot at an expense of twenty-five thousand dollars.

On the part of the City, it appears that the Common Council, on the 6th of July, 1859, appointed a Committee, consisting of the Mayor, Hon. P. S. Galpin, Ex-Alderman Henry S. Dawson, and Charles Atwater, Jr., to confer with the Selectmen of the Town, relative to a joint ownership of the property on Church street, for the purpose of erecting thereon a building for the Town Clerk's Office, Probate Office, Council Chamber, and other requirements for Town and City use, with authority to procure plans and estimates.

This Committee made their report to the Council, on the 5th of September, 1859, recommending that proper action be taken to erect the building; and subsequently, on the 19th of September, the Mayor was requested to call a City Meeting, to vote upon the question of proceeding, in connection with the Town authorities, to erect a building, and also asking the Legislature to give power to the City to issue bonds, to the amount of sixty thousand dollars.

The City meeting was called and held on the 15th of October, 1859, and almost unanimously passed votes in favor of carrying forward the work.

On the 15th of October, 1859, a Committee consisting of Mayor H. M. Welch, Aldermen William B. Johnson and Philo Chatfield, and Councilmen Henry W. Benedict, Nicholas Countryman, and George Alling, was appointed by the Common Council, to unite with the Committee appointed by the Town, and arrange for a joint ownership of the lot, and the erection of a suitable structure, at the equal expense of the City and Town.

The Joint Committee, appointed by the Town and Council, held their first meeting on the 18th of July, 1860. These meetings were held from time to time, for examining plans, procuring estimates, and in arranging for the proper accommodation of the several public offices.

After mature deliberation, the plans of Henry Austin, Esq., were adopted, in Committee, and the contracts with Messrs. Perkins and Chatfield, for the mason work, and Mr. Nicholas Countryman for the carpenter and wood work, were signed on the second day of April, 1861.

Messrs. Chatfield and Countryman having become contractors, they resigned their places on the Committee, which were filled by the appointment of Alderman Benjamin N. Tuttle and Councilman Augustus C. Wilcox.

Immediately after the signing of the contracts, the work of pulling down the old County House and Jail was commenced, the rubbish cleared away, and the foundations of the present structure were laid.

The building was finished, according to contract, the first day of October, 1862, and immediately occupied by the public officers of the city and town.

THE PERFECTION — OF — Sewing Machines!

MUST BE SEEN TO BE APPRECIATED!

THE BEST MACHINE IN THE WORLD FOR FAMILY USE

It has Received the Highest Premium
— AT THE —
FAIR OF THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE

Six Reasons why The Florence is the Best:

1. Its Simplicity and great range of work.
2. Its making four different Stitches, viz: the Lock, Knot, Double Lock and Double Knot.
3. The Reversible Feed Motion, operated by simply turning a thumb screw, enabling the operator to run the work to the right or to the left, and convenience of self-fastening the ends of seams.
4. The perfect finish and substantial manner in which the Machine is made.
5. The rapidity of its working, and the quality of the work done.
6. Its self-adjusting tension.

It is the only Machine capable of making more than one kind of a Stitch, and the only one having the Reversible Feed.

The public are respectfully requested to call and examine the merits of the

The great object of the School is mental and moral culture in a preparation for College or for Business. Unless, under extraordinary circumstances, only a part of the daytime is devoted to Military Training and other physical exercises; and it is only by this use of hours, commonly worse than wasted, that the School has acquired any reputation as a Military Institution.

The regular course in the department preparatory to Yale College, occupies four years; but full opportunity is allowed to those who can prepare more rapidly.

Parents will find, in the instruction given in Military Drilling, Gymnastics, Swimming, etc., and in the ample grounds for out-door games, under careful supervision, just the advantages for physical training and vigor, which boys in cities need.

Further information as to the various departments to the Institute, and the terms, may be had by applying for catalogues, gratis, at the stores of H. C. Peck and T. H. Pease, or to

In case there are more applications than vacancies in any room, the selection of scholars is made by lot.

After the beginning of the school year, any applicants for admission may apply to the Clerk of the District, who will give a card of admission to some particular school; and in case there is no vacancy in the proper grade of that school, the applicant's name will be entered by the Principal upon a Register of applications, and the scholars whose names are thus recorded will be entitled to seats, (as vacancies occur), according to the order of time in which they applied.

Sewing Machine,

WITH ITS WONDERFUL IMPROVEMENTS,

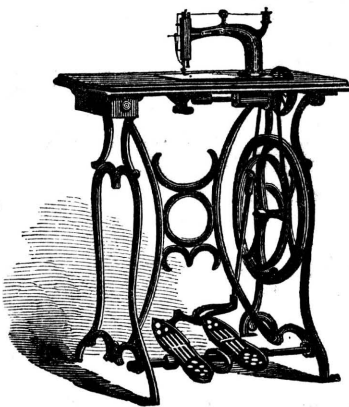

IS UNQUESTIONABLY THE

BEST SEWING MACHINE

FOR ALL PURPOSES, EVER YET MADE.

It runs easy and rapid, and is so constructed as to endure all kinds of usage. We invite comparison and challenge trial on the principal requirements of a Sewing Machine for the Family and Manufactory.

It makes the Lock Stitch alike on both sides, the only desirable stitch in use. Will Sew from finest Lace to the coarsest common linen thread. The tensions are so easily regulated that a child can manage them.

They Hem, Fell, Bind, Braid, Cord, and will Gather and Sew on a ruffle at the same time. They use the straight needle, and will quilt on bare wadding, without using inner lining. We give full instructions in using them. All Machines are warranted, and we guarantee to keep them in repair one year.

We have established a Branch Office at

319 Chapel Street, New Haven,

Where at all times can be found a full assortment of Machines. Also, a complete stock of SILK, COTTON and LINEN THREAD, MACHINE OIL, &c., which will be sold at retail, or to the Trade, at the lowest price. All are invited to call and examine for themselves. Circular and Price List sent free on application.
